At Hospital Ball

Glamorous Ladies, Roses Add Up to Social Success

Camelion Jimmy Durante, who entertained guests at the first annual benefit ball of Northwest Community Hospital, dines with Dr. and Mrs. Committee Silver.

Dr. Silver was executive committee chairman of the ball, held at Arlington Park.

Armloads of red roses, symbols of a job well done, were presented to honorary chairman of the first annual benefit ball of Northwest Community Hospital Saturday at Arlington Park.

Dr. Eugene Silver, the ball's executive committee chairman, distributed flowers to Mrs. William Paley, Mrs. A. C. Butler, Mrs. Webb (Majorie Lindheimer) Everett and Mrs. William Hall.

A crowd of more than 1,000 guests watched the value of the honorary chairman, laughed at the antics of comedienne Jimmy Durante and ate dinners selected from a huge array of foods served buffet style.

Raffle personally John Dornan was master of ceremonies at a brief program in which he read snippets of good wishes from Gov. Otto Kerner, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, Sen. Paul Douglas and Rep. Donald Rumsfeld.

OFFICIALS INTRODUCED at the party included Sheriff Richard Ogilvie, Republican candidate for president of the Cook County Board of Commissioners, Sherrill Dan, John A. Graham, County Commissioner Floyd Folie, state representative Eganola Chapman and Eugene Schickman; Judge Walter P. Dahl, presiding judge of the juvenile division of Cook County Circuit Court; David Congress, president of the Village of Mount Prospect; and John G. Woods, president of Arlington Heights.

BETTING -- WITH PLAY MONEY, that is -- was heavy on these mock horse races called by Phil Georgeff. Entries before were named after hospital officials and volunteers, and actual race films were screened while the crowd roared for its favorite.

Winner of the first race, appropriately enough, was Speedy Souer, named for the ball's executive committee chairman.

Village President John G. Woods and Mrs. Woods stand for the dinner floor.

Think you can beat inflation? Forget it. The housewife doesn't have a chance. Take it from one who has tried.

This reporter has decided that a trip to the store is like one to Las Vegas -- a losing proposition. After dispatching many articles on how to save money at the store, I felt it was time to get the job done.

First I checked all the special sales, comparing various "dollar" prices and selecting the best bargain. Then I also studied the rights of consumer magazines.

You know -- all those fat packages that look like they hold more than the tall skinny ones -- only they really don't. And the tall jars that hold less than the short fat ones.

I GATHERED MY merchant card, looking as self-reliant as I could. I reached for the check-out counter, where I had been told the clerk would be. I had even left the children with Daddy so I wouldn't be distracted.

Total the bill. Fortunately my merchant were few, and I had managed to figure the exact amount of my total before she did.

Judge and Mrs. Walter P. Dahl of Arlington Heights relax at their table. Judge Dahl is presiding judge of the juvenile division of Cook County Circuit Court.

What Will June Bride Look Like?

By Jeffrey Watson
Women's Editor

If the June bride follows current fashion and makeup trends, she may walk down the aisle looking like a caricature of the 1920's flapper who did a mean Charleston after the ceremony.

Bride-to-be's are working overtime these days to prevent this from happening. Like a lot of us, these brides have just plain romantic notions about beautiful wedding.

Bride counselors fear that this season's bride may wear an architectural hair style -- which resembles the shaggy hairdo of the Roaring 20's -- and short, short skirt -- also a favorite of the flapper.

FLAPPER bride, old magazine reveal, wore tall, flared, very abbreviated skirts and trains sweeping underfoot, away from the waistline or shoulder and fast-tight with ties.

Bonnet was important. The 20's bride appears to have changed her checks heavily, picked her eyebrows and they suddenly disappeared and widened her mouth into a wide grin.

This spring's bride, if she follows the advice of wedding specialists, will avoid a short skirt for an informal wedding. And her hairstyle will be soft and feminine, topped with a simple veil and tiara.

THE UNDERSTATED makeup suggested by cosmetologists for the spring bride is a pale pink foundation in a pearly tone and blush-on to contour the face.

One cosmetic house proposes that a bride-to-be take professional styling lessons of facial in department stores to make herself a little more expert for her big day.

If she's right, though, she will start the honeymoon with an advance to master basic techniques and avoid blunders.

ALTHOUGH editors and eye shadow often are at the

and her attendants rather than starting him. Although today's young women may appear as "mod," casual and up-to-date as the moment is her everyday life, she'll probably want to be as old-fashioned beautiful bride.

Young Originals
Suit Up for Spring
YOUNG ORIGINALS' CATER will be at the way "in" with this smartly styled spring suit with its tiny mandarin collar and lapel-length jacket. Designed for the young-in-heart as well as years, it can be made with either short or three-quarter sleeves and the pattern provides an alterable, trim version of the jacket. An accompanying Co-ordinator suggests a variety of fabric and color combinations and a step-by-step Photo-Guide insures a professional finish.

B-64 is for sizes 9, 11, 13, 15, 17, 19 and 21. B-64, D-64, E-64, F-64, G-64, H-64, I-64, J-64, K-64, L-64, M-64, N-64, O-64, P-64, Q-64, R-64, S-64, T-64, U-64, V-64, W-64, X-64, Y-64, Z-64.

Send $1 for this pattern to: YOUNG ORIGINALS, name of purchaser, P.O. Box 4884, Midtown Station, New York, N.Y. 10018. Print your full name, address, zip code, pattern number and size. Add $36 for first-class handling.

Fabric suggestions: The bride-to-be always wears clean and looks natural that way, are perfect.

Attractive shades of light blue for wear with a white bolero jacket are moderately new pinks and corals, with brilliant and now banished-as-the-lesser-evil from wedding dress.

Commodore's also suggest soft and pastel for the bride.

Bake Sale
An Exhibit Night and Bake Sale will be held Tuesday, at Ridge School, 500 N. Elston, between 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Parents will have an opportunity to visit classrooms and see the pupils work on display.

The Board of Education of School Dist. 25 has approved changes in elementary school districts. The map shows the attendance areas for each school effective this fall. The only opposition to the change came from a group of parents from the area east of Arlington Heights Rd. and north of Thomas.

Dist. 214 Purchasing Agent Job Approved

A purchasing agent for Township High School Dist. 214, responsible for the business manager, may be hired soon.

The board of education authorized the employment of a purchasing agent at a salary within the range of $4,000 to $14,000 at Monday's meeting. The board also adopted specifications and qualification descriptions of the position. The purchasing agent for the schools in the district currently is handled by Business Manager Frank Coleman. The administration reports that several people have been interviewed and one of the applicants is well qualified and appears to be very desirable.

According to the job description the agent would be responsible for purchasing, distribution and storage and inventory control. Approximately five years experience in the purchasing function and a bachelor's degree with some emphasis on business administration was recommended but other experience or qualifications will be considered. One of the main functions of the job would be to purchase all equipment, services, materials and supplies for the maintenance use of the district or other cooperating schools. The food commodities and merchandise made from gifts each funds at individual schools would be an exception. The agent would be responsible for the co-ordination of purchases for the schools and departments. He would co-operate with the principals and supervisors to insure that the quality and type of instructional stock supplies meet the needs and financial capacity of the district instructional program.

We Join: Mark J. Novotny, Mary Crenshaw, David Cahal

The purchasing agent also would be expected to study market trends and product prices and to submit recommendations on new methods in the field.

Be Prepared for Any Emergency

Do you know your child's blood type and Rh factor?

Can you remember all the immunizations each child has received? If not, you probably have plenty of company. But this information could be vital in an emergency in which your child's pediatrician couldn't be reached.

To help you keep information about your youngster, the Voluntary Nurse Assoc. of Montgomery, Ala., has developed a child's medical record. The record, a portable booklet, provides space for a mother to document medical history from birth to age 18.

In addition to pages for noting immunizations, test and vaccinations, the booklet has space for mothers to record diseases and their date of onset, blood type, Rh factor, allergies and weight and height.

The child's medical record may be obtained by writing the Voluntary Nurse Assoc., P.O.

Box 4684, Memphis Tenn. 38106. Cost is 40 cents or three for $1.

The document seems a wise one.

TWO TALENTED youngsters will dance lead roles in a program at the annual May dinner meeting of the "Fash Ladies' Society" at 5 p.m. Wednesday in the Parish Hall.

The children are Liorhe Chase, 6, and her brother Gregg, 11, of Knoxville, Tenn. They and other studio pupils, ranging in age from 4 to 16, will present a condensed version of a musical "Hoot and Anny."

Gregg danced the part of "Fritz" in a performance of "The Nutcracker Ballet Ball" last December in the Arts Crown Theatre at McCormick Place.

After the program, the women will conduct a brief business meeting. A new vice president, reporting secretary and treasurer will be elected.

"SHOW TO BE A Person and a Parent" will be the discussion topic at the next meeting of the Northwest Suburban Chapter of Parents without Partners, Inc.

The meeting is slated for 8:15 p.m. Friday, May 27 in the Bush of Rolling Meadows, 1236 W. Kirchhoff, Rolling Meadows.

The group is a nonprofit, nonsectarian organization devoted to the parent who must raise his child alone.

Liorhe and Gregg Chase, who will dance the title roles in "Hoot and Anny."

Sunner or Swimmer, These Will Suit You

These are the days to get ready for the swim.

Is your suit ready for those first hot days? If not, new suit styles are very tempting.

Bikini costumes to be popular this year. You can find them in dotted Swiss, checks, jump-jelly prints, plaids, Hawaiian floral prints and knits. They are available with matching scarves, headbands or surfer jackets.

Making a big return this year is the one-piece suit — but it doesn't look like it used to. This year it has cut-outs on the sides, see-through side panels, eyelid holes, and is made from floral laces.

The real swimmer, as opposed to the sunbather, is being considered for a change. Swimmer suits are made of a light stretch knit that dries rapidly. They're styled in a hood-neck look with flattering little-boy legs — so you can really cut water.

To wear over your suit, there are transparent jackets or smock coats of fabric. Pull-over velours are big news for the teen-agers. Matching zipper jackets and the briefest cotton shirts also are good coverage.

When you come out of the water, push your hair back with one of the new bands with woodier earrings attached. Or cover it with a mopcap, big straw hat or cotton sunbonnet with matching beach bag.

These surfers are wearing Fishbombs by Jantzen, a stylized surfboard and covered smock costume. The suit is available in flag red combi and jacket in flag red or navy combi. Todd's Sportswear Tees, Rockford.

Hawaii (left) by Cote of California is a one-piece swimmer suit with big leg and a surplus bodice in blue or orange. Graciel (right) is a one-piece ribbed cotton swim suit with a wide collar in black, yellow, orange, white, or green. Both are available at Heart Mandy's, Arlington Heights.

The look of blue dotted Swiss is a two-piece bikini with matching triangle top and repeated pattern of ruffles. Available at Montgomery Ward, Rockford.

Dedication Gala

St. Alexius Scene Of Ball Saturday

A unique ballroom will be the scene of the Dedication Gala to be given by St. Alexius Hospital Auxiliary Saturday, May 21.

The dance will be held on the ground floor of the new St. Alexius Hospital at 800 W. Butterfield in Elk Grove Village. Three adjoining rooms will be transformed into a colorful, ballroom filled ballroom.

Bosses' Night

The North Suburban Educational Association will hold their second annual "Bosses' Night Out" Wednesday, May 18 at the Brookwood Country Club in Addison.

The occasion marks the 40th anniversary of the National Association of Educational Secretaries, of which the north suburban chapter is a member.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Eleanor Williams 339-9108.

With a Little Care

Gardeners Can Have Pretty Hands

Gardening may be a creative and satisfying hobby, but it can play havoc with a woman's hands.

The woman who gardens seriously but keeps her nails and cuticles trim and her hands smooth has learned that a little care goes a long way.

TO IMPROVE the appearance of your hands, try these tips: ALWAYS WASH hands thoroughly using warm, not hot, water. SCRUB NAILS and knuckles with a brush. Rinse and then stretching the fingers wide open. Clench a ball and repeat rapidly five or six times.

SHIELD the hands from the sun. The sun can help, but it can also burn and age the skin.

With daily care, even the most avid gardener may have pretty hands.

New Officer

Mrs. George F. Dales, 215 S. Princeton, Arlington Heights, has been elected president of the Cotto Camp for Women's Alumnae Club of the greater Chicago area.

Knight 9 Captures District Crown

By DALE HOFFMANN

Prospect's pattern Kingdom waited more than a week to get in on the state's district baseball action, but it took them only a day to grab all the marbles.

COACH CRICK ARK 2nd and Maine West led to capture the Maine West district title in a much postponed district game yesterday. The title was won by a 6-4 score. Prospect's team-fans and fans game were seated back five lines of seats.

The double win earned the Knights the right to face Glenbrook North today at 4:30 p.m. in the first round of the Prospect district playoffs. The winners from the Jetties and the Jetties will meet on another Prospect district game. The first round game, which was held on Tuesday, took place at 4:30 p.m.

THE BODEN field of activity after more than a week's lull had left Prospect's pitching circle in wild disarray. Coach Arkin, after yesterday's triumph, "we're all going home and putting on the gloves and ready to go now."

If that doesn't work, Arkin will probably start Tom Lindstrom on the mound against Glenbrook North. A veteran of the district game, he is the Sportsman's choice. The Jetties would get the nod Wednesday.

THOMAS SUBMITTED five hits while beating Prospect's pitcher, but he was out of yesterday's double header, while Kingdom was credited with a victory in the Maine West game.

RIGHTEAR 2nd and a Kingdom hit and pitched to an 8-4 win over Maine West in the Maine West district baseball tournament yesterday.

Cats Bow In District Baseball

Powerful Glenbrook North dominated Wednesday's error-ridden Wilkeson from the state baseball championship 9-1 yesterday. The finale of the District II district tournament.

RIGHTEAR Coach Newman won the victory of first place. As he showed his first mistake in seven innings. The final score was 9-1. The Cats in command in the final inning, with a long solo home run over the left field fence.

Coach Steve Cherniack's charges battled from a 5-1 deficit to square matters at the 10th inning. But the Sportsman's choice, with single runs in the sixth and seventh frames to secure the victory. The Sportsman's choice, with single runs in the sixth and seventh frames to secure the victory.

Glenbrook scored with a two-run uprising in the first inning on two trips and an error by Wilkeson shortstop Jeff Weisberg. Dan Devito kept the Cats in command in the second inning with a long solo home run over the left field fence.

But the Sportsman's choice, with single runs in the sixth and seventh frames to secure the victory. The Sportsman's choice, with single runs in the sixth and seventh frames to secure the victory.

Drivers Tests Open Saturday

Sec. of State Paul Powell announced that beginning this week driver license examination stations in 38 Illinois municipalities will be open from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays. Included will be stations in Libertyville, Lombard and Schaumburg.

"This new work schedule is an effort to accommodate those persons who would experience extreme inconvenience by having to take their driver examinations during 9 o'clock weekdays hours," Powell said.

"It is definitely not an invitation to everyone to wait until Saturday to take the driver's license examination and if the public chooses this new work schedule to the point where bad service becomes an impossibility, it may be necessary to revert to the weekday-only schedule," Powell said.

He advised all applicants who possibly take the examination on weekdays to do so.

Corn for Popping

by Catherine O'Donnell

In a letter to Cottlevood Lane in Arlington Heights, Marie Lane Col. Bill Coleman, new of Viet Nam, wrote that he and his buddies had supplied a big pot of perfect for popping popcorn.

Popcorn is pretty much an American staple and Bill Coleman makes you feel that it is without it can be missed. All the fellows need is corn to pop. He has a bag of that a case of French fried onions that she sent was "pure luxury." He mentioned that someone didn't mind much to change the had made due but there on the favor of the water.

Bill will have served Viet Nam for one year next month. His brother Tom, arrived there on Mother's Day, May 8. This cousin, Barry Gold, arrived there two days earlier. He and his Arlington High School friends used this at least one student's hamshole should be a good sign.

The three haven't met over there yet but it will be a reunion when they do.

Bill did not miss two old friends from Arlington, Mike

Ryan, who said to live on Route 1, and Danny Cies of South Forest.

The Quartermasters are the sons of Police Sgt. William Quartermaster. In case you're a fellow popcorn enthusiast and can understand what it's like, Bill's address is Lane, Col. Coleman, A.T. 32 Marine Division, F.M.F., P.O. Box 100, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Dynamite Duo
They didn't wear masks but they couldn't stand the heat but there on the right ear burner, clearly printed in the road grade, was the word BATMAN.

It is now Pandemonium Hillside and Bill Coleman, who won't know well they used this at least one student's hamshole should be a good sign.

Cheaper by Dozen
Not only did Lucius Frick of South Western sang with her husband Bill four excellent and professional concerts at the Garden Club Exhibit in Forest Park over the week-end, but she was more ribbons than anyone else for her work with flowers.

Jo was 12 ribbons, eight first place blue, two second place red and two third place yellow. Jo and her husband have been singing together since she does with the Chicago Opera Company.

Cool Head
Congratulations to the two new Arlington Heights police lieutenants, Irv McDougall and Maurice Egan. Maurice is the officer who handles all of the juvenile cases and complaints. To a column writer, constantly surrounded by teenagers (including a boy named today) it comes as no surprise that he was promoted. The kids refer to him as a "cool head" which is a accolade.

Computers May Keep Student Records Intact

Computers may be keeping student records in School District 29.

One administration member said he could do it in minutes on the computer which might require four months by hand.

Under study are several universities for processing student records. All units within the district given in grade 5 are now served by computer.

It is a difficulty in that schools have the records but no central storage.

A student's records need to be "segmented," said the administrator. "I've got all the information," said one man. "That is, in my eight separate files representing eight separate grades."

4 Vehicles For Village

Arlington Heights will purchase four vehicles from a local dealer.

The bid is for the replacement of a 1959 Dodge truck, a 1960 four-wheel drive pickup truck, a 1960 half-ton pickup truck and a 1961 station wagon.

$26,000 Grant for Center

The Kensington Foundation is giving School District 29 a grant of $26,000 to explore and evaluate the learning center.

About 20 such educational "recognition" throughout the country are being studied by the privately endowed educational foundation.

Costs of clerks, travel, consultant fees, publicity, and a coordinator for center visitors will come from the grant.

Learning centers, such as the one at Forest View Elementary School, try to provide opportunities for children to work at their individual speeds in reading and arithmetic; some programmed instruction is a supplement to regular classroom teaching.

At Forest View, for example, as many as eight children may be listening simultaneously through earphones to a tape recording of multiplication problems.

In September, District 29 will open five learning centers.

A training program of work experience and theory centers for multiplication problems.

Cook of The Day

Today's Menu: Homemade Ravioli

BY MARILYN HEEFERS

Ravioli is on the menu for The Day, courtesy of Mrs. Paul Johnson, 820 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Johnson shows her family recipe for ravioli and hints for preparing the dish with or without a ravioli-making machine.

Big fans of her ravioli are daughters Lynette, 16, Kay, 10, Dawn, 8 and Cory, 6. Mrs. Johnson is a member of Ridge PTA, the First Presbyterian Church and a leader of Girl Scout Troop 414.

PREPARATION of ravioli begins with the dough, she said. The dough is a combination of melted margarine, salt, egg yolks, water and flour. When the dough is mixed and left to stand for 30 minutes, the filling is made.

Mrs. Johnson's ravioli filling is made of ground beef, drained canned spinach, onion, cheese, salt and pepper. The dough is rolled to 1/8" thickness and a teaspoon of filling is placed every two inches on half the dough. The other half is folded over the filling. The dough is cut into 2" square with a ravioli cutter or pastry wheel and pressed firmly to seal.

WHEN the ravioli are filled, they are left to dry overnight. When ready to serve, they are boiled in salted water and served with a heavy meat sauce.

Mrs. Johnson's meat sauce is made with Italian sausage, onion, tomato paste, tomato juice, garlic, ground beef, Italian sausage and a few pork ribs. These ingredients are combined with Romano or Parmesan cheese, dash of cinnamon or nutmeg, salt, pepper and Italian seasoning (basil, oregano, thyme).

A pinch of soda or sugar may be added about two days before serving. The sauce for several hours.

Old Books? Here's Place for Them

Unused books and records are being sought by the Arlington Heights Branch of the American Assn. of University Women.

"And kind of book from 'Beovulf' to 'Lady Chatterley's Lover' will be welcome for our November book-book fair," said Mrs. Francis Egan, book sale chairman.

Proceeds from the fair will be given to the National AAUW Fellowship Program, the world's oldest and largest scholarship program exclusively for women.

U.S. funds are given to women for doctoral dissertations and post-doctoral research.

THE FIRST award was given in 1880 to Miss M. Street for graduate study in English at the University of Michigan. Since then, more than 100 graduate scholars have been awarded grants.

International Fellowship awards are given to women from foreign countries who use their advanced study for their nation's welfare.

In 1964-65, the Arlington Heights branch made a $1,500 contribution from its book-book sale, the largest contribution made by an Illinois AAUW branch.

Records or books may be donated by calling Mrs. Francis Egan, 392-5812, or Mrs. Lorna Korte, 392-3415.

Colorful Designs From Head to Foot

Art by the yard is being turned out these days by the American printed-curtain industry.

The upsurge in print production is due to the revival of printed fabrics in nearly every area of today's living. There is nothing new about printed blouses and short-sleeved dresses or knit blouses. But up-to-date as tomorrow's newspaper are trending crop tops, buttoned bubble tops or a gown of field flowers on a background of busy print.

Colorful designs also are reaching for a paper-thin carry-over to the feet. Gay slippers are slapping around in color-printed T-cups and print boots.

The end-of-the-story is being told in print. Orders, bar and half-price are booming with flowers.

BOWS in little girl's hair, gloves and umbrellas for spring showers and travel cases also are likely to turn up in prints. And even when

Accepted For Youth Orchestra

Betsy White, a freshman at Arlington High School, has been accepted as a violin section member of the Youth Orchestra of Greater Chicago.

The orchestra, conducted by Dudley Powers of the Northwestern University music faculty, is composed of outstanding young musicians from the Chicago area. Members are selected from as far distant as Rockford and Crystal Lake.

Betsy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy White of Arlington Heights, is a member of the high school orchestra and a violin student of Frank Pytko.

Mrs. Lampert Joins Firm

Mrs. Norma D. Lampert of Mrs. Roy White of Arlington Heights, is a member of the high school orchestra and a violin student of Frank Pytko.

Fine For A Light Luncheon

As the days grow warmer, you may want to serve a modest salad for a luncheon that is light and yet substantial.

A good candidate is a cheese salad, made with cream and blue cheese, lemon juice and salt. The cream, lemon juice and salt can be substituted with onion and chutney for dessert.

Some Day

"I am about to perform a great patriotic service," announced Uncle John. Blowing ash as he pulled down the flag over the Arlington Bell. "You are too old for the Great Service," announced his friend Zeran. Frank of the Dan- ton St. Improvement League, "I am not joining. I am quit- ting Uncle John."

"A dropout from Dropout School."

"That is right," continued Uncle John. "I see it takes $39,205 to train one woman and the least I can do for my country is to drop out."

"You might have something there," agreed Zeran. "But I think the problem is a shortage of retrainees and job opportunities."

"The fellows at our high school are having trouble spending all the money Wash- ington is sending them be- cause they are not thinking big."

"I can remember when $39,205 educated the whole township," present Uncle John. "This is a new age," said Zeran. "First thing we have got to do is train space in the Cultural Center so we can be sure the heavy losses in Florida that are sustained should."

"But the Cultural Center isn't built," said Uncle John. "No matter. If we get 42 retrainees we will get $14,860 and that should build a pretty good Cultural Center."

"I see what you mean," agreed Uncle John. "It is too bad we could not find 150 or maybe 200 trainees."

"What is the world coming you do with all that money," asked Zeran as he started counting his cars in the af- ternoon tonight trainees."

"It is simple," explained Uncle John. "We could spend a million for rent in the Cultural Center and have enough left over to depress the United States."

"We could charge that off under bus transportation."

"... It's just—I feel strange about LIKING a show that's sponsored by something that stops acne"

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

Most voter attention in the area is focused on the June 14 primary election. While we are happy to see interest in intra-party primary elections, voters should remember an equally as important day on the polls on Saturday, June 4.

That is the date the William R. Harper College referendum, amounting $737,500, will be presented.

That bond issue, if approved by the electorate, will provide a campus in Palatine Township that will have an annual value of $25,000,000. The state of Illinois, through junior college appropriations, will provide 75 per cent of the bond issue and building costs.

We have searched out opinions on the bond issue and those who have taken dis- seminated efforts to defeat the referendum. This could help junior college proponents to a false feeling of security. They might believe it is a "done" and unnecessary to continue with all our efforts to bring out a large affirmative vote.

FOR MANY years, we have watched bond issues for school districts, we have watched them and we have seen them fail. For many years, we have seen them fail. For many years, we have seen them fail. For many years, we have seen them fail.

forward elections. Looking back, the bond issues that we have seen defeated were those that school board members considered behind closed doors and kept to themselves.

Certainly, such is not the case with the William R. Harper College bond issue. We have seen a board of education more anxious to get approval than to the voters.

BAND MEMBERS are eager to make as many appearances as possible to fill the void on the issue involved. So, as a part of the college administration, headed by Dr. Bob Lohr.

It would seem like a far-out idea that some voters failed to provide the financing to make their early college dream a reality.

THE BIG selling point in the June 4 Harper College referendum is not whether the state of Illinois will provide the financing to make their early college dream a reality.

Now, they have to decide whether the architecture plans and site and financial concept are realistic.

Harper College will be in the community a long time. It is building for the future—just as this entire area is developing for those who will live here tomorrow.

IT IS not beyond our imagination that Harper College will have two campuses in 20 years. According to the report, a majority of the first campus to a capacity of around 10,000 students. This means that Harper College will have two campuses in 20 years.

It appears to be that young families have been made in Harper College. Parents with children in elementary schools should be especially concerned to the future of Harper College.

It would seem like a far-out idea that some voters failed to provide the financing to make their early college dream a reality.

Swimming Water

W.G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Outdoor swimming, whether in a pool, lake, river or ocean, is a very attractive activity. It is a good way to get in shape and to enjoy the outdoors. However, there are some risks involved in swimming, and it is important to take precautions to avoid them.

The pool floor should be checked at least once a week to make sure it is working and the chlorine content should be tested daily.

Many owners of home swimming pools prefer indoor or hydro-massaged pools. These pools are often used as a substitute for a hot tub. However, they are not as safe as a hot tub. The water in these pools is often heated to a high temperature, and this can cause burns. Also, the water in these pools is often treated with chemicals, and this can cause irritation to the skin.

The eyes, ears, throat, nose and mouth should be checked at least once a week to make sure they are working and the chlorine content should be tested daily.

Q—My wife is in her seventh month of pregnancy. According to Clark, the investigation showed that the shops charged for non-essential parts, parts not installed, no parts not made and replacement of parts not made.

Clark said: "The fraud is deliberate in the industry and affects every citizen, from the most wealthy to those on relief."

We agree with Clark that practices such as these are serious and that they affect everyone. We do not at all quarrel with any part of the investigation. We do, however, disagree with the way the report of the investigation was handled.

One group of citizens very seriously affected and to whom very little consideration has been given are the many TV repairmen who DO NOT overcharge, who DO NOT charge for nonessential parts.

Clark's report on TV repair fraud, as presented, appears to be an indictment of the entire television repair industry.

We do not believe every TV repairman is a crook. The investigation was "a sampling" of TV repair shops. It did not cover every shop in every city, town, village and unincorporated area. Yet it casts a shadow on every TV repairman in the state.

Clark also announced that he had called for a meeting on June 1 "to seek advice on other possible steps—possibly special legislation and licensing of repairmen."

Similar legislation has been proposed by the National Association of Television Service Advisors. According to a member of the NATEVA, they have attempted to get a licensing bill through the Legislature early in the session for the last five years. Once it passed the house, but it has never passed the Senate.

Now that has stirred the water, we hope that something constructive will be done. Something that will take the burden off the back of honest TV repairmen.

Police Session Not Held

Board To Give More Power To Village Manager

BY JACK A. VANDERBILT

Village Manager John Morgan will have complete responsibility for running all village departments, including hiring and firing of department heads.

This decision was reached by the Mount Prospect village board meeting in closed session at the village hall Friday night, during the one hour and fifteen minute meeting, the meeting minutes are subject to the effect that in accordance with the village ordinance will be prepared Monday afternoon.

A LONG heralded meeting between the village board and officer James Rock, of the Mount Prospect Police Department, was previously made by the village president with advice and consent of the board of trustees.

Village manager presentation in Mount Prospect is by ordinance, rather than referendum. The main difference is that under ordinance the system can be voided out by the board. Under referendum, only the people can vote out the system.

Under the referendum system, the manager automatically has the responsibility of hiring and firing department heads. Under ordinance, it depends how the working is in to the manager's responsibility. His responsibilities are strictly defined under the ordinance in referendum system.

Crooks said that he understood Friday night's meeting was called by Trustee Robert Tschetter, former chairman of the first and police committee of the village board. "We didn't see the importance of the village president into the action and operations of the police department."

Crooks said that officer Rock, who has already resigned from the force, had nothing to lose by making an appearance before the board to outline his complaints.

A SECOND police officer, Patrick McCann, also resigned. He was on hand at Friday night's meeting and Crooks indicated McCann was willing to testify before the closed board meeting.

Crooks said that at least six policemen had come to him and volunteered to testify before a board hearing on what he claimed, "Congress's complete meddling and interference in their duties as policemen."

Specifically, Crooks said his complaint against Congress was a "push list." Crooks said that Congress allegedly said policemen it would be, "a feather in their caps," if they could arrest certain prominent citizens in the village.

Crooks said that two village trustees, were on the list. He said he would, however, reveal their names.

Crooks said that Congress interfered with Rock's investigation of an April 18 accident, insuring that a ticket be issued even though the accident happened on private property.

Crooks contended that on Saturday, April 23 the mayor interfered with police radio dispatchers sending for equipment in a fire case by breaking in on his own police radio frequency.

Officer Rock has been followed on several occasions while on duty by the mayor and on at least one occasion by Village Manager Morgan, Crooks contended.

CROOKS SAID that the reason for Officer Rock's resignation, which was effective May 15, was "the village board's meddling and interference in the duties of the police department."

On several occasions, according to Crooks, the mayor took over investigation of accident cases in the police station.

Crooks reiterated that he was prepared to prove his allegations before the village board.

board in closed meeting if given the opportunity.

BY THE WAY, according to Crooks, in the mayor's two way police radio, in his carrying a gun and to his being issued a book of traffic tickets.

Mayor Congress even issued traffic citations' number 4581 and 4582, which Crooks said could be worse any tickets.

Crooks read a letter submitted by Officer McCann to the village manager, resigning from the force.

"I, Patrick J. McCann, resign from the Mount Prospect Police Department. Crooks said their careers would be in jeopardy if their names were released.

"For five years I have worked with police officers," Crooks said, "and I have never seen a finer bunch of men, either individually or collectively, than the Mount Prospect force. Their complete demoralization and that of the entire department is a tragedy."

Crooks said that he understood Friday night's meeting was called by Trustee Robert Tschetter, former chairman of the first and police committee of the village board. "We didn't see the importance of the village president into the action and operations of the police department."

Crooks said that officer Rock, who has already resigned from the force, had nothing to lose by making an appearance before the board to outline his complaints.

A SECOND police officer, Patrick McCann, also resigned. He was on hand at Friday night's meeting and Crooks indicated McCann was willing to testify before the closed board meeting.

Crooks said that at least six policemen had come to him and volunteered to testify before a board hearing on what he claimed, "Congress's complete meddling and interference in their duties as policemen."

Specifically, Crooks said his complaint against Congress was a "push list." Crooks said that Congress allegedly said policemen it would be, "a feather in their caps," if they could arrest certain prominent citizens in the village.

Crooks said that two village trustees, were on the list. He said he would, however, reveal their names.

Crooks said that Congress interfered with Rock's investigation of an April 18 accident, insuring that a ticket be issued even though the accident happened on private property.

Crooks contended that on Saturday, April 23 the mayor interfered with police radio dispatchers sending for equipment in a fire case by breaking in on his own police radio frequency.

Officer Rock has been followed on several occasions while on duty by the mayor and on at least one occasion by Village Manager Morgan, Crooks contended.

CROOKS SAID that the reason for Officer Rock's resignation, which was effective May 15, was "the village board's meddling and interference in the duties of the police department."

On several occasions, according to Crooks, the mayor took over investigation of accident cases in the police station.

Crooks reiterated that he was prepared to prove his allegations before the village board.

"Behind closed doors..." Members of the Mount Prospect village board found it necessary to go behind closed doors Friday night to discuss personnel. After the executive session, which lasted an hour and fifteen minutes, it was announced that Village Manager John Morgan would have hiring and firing responsibility over all department heads. A face-to-face meeting between the board and assistant officer James Rock of the Mount Prospect police department failed to materialize.

Sen. Douglas Points to Social Reforms

More than 100 persons turned out to hear Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) address the Elk Grove Township Regular Democratic Organization early Friday.

Addressing precinct captains as well as several county and state candidates, Douglas pointed to social reform during economic progress, as his party's accomplishment.

"The Democratic party is not content with mere progress," he said. "We want to spread all around for everyone."

"FOR the first time we've passed the greatest economic progress," He mentioned reform, and to education and the war on poverty.

"In times past," he continued, "as in the 1920s when the country was moving up materially, we became so satisfied with the country's progress."

"The depression showed we weren't ready and we had to go through that agony. Only then was reform legislation passed."

"Now, for the first time we've combined prosperity and social reform. But there are still things to be done, particularly in the fields of educational opportunity, housing and correcting the pollution of our air and water."

AMONG others addressing the 3000 were Mrs. Eugene Chapman, Arlington Heights, Norman Nelson, Elk Grove Village, and Bernard Franklin, Northbrook, all running for a seat in the Illinois General Assembly from the third district.

Also James McCab, candidate for the 13th Congressional district; Marshall Keck, candidate for county treasurer; Bernard Korzen, candidate for the county board of appeals; and Herman Kornman and Raymond Cox, both running for county commissioners.

Township Commissioner Chester A. Cheney said a second rally is planned for June.

Police Board Member Resigns from Post

The village board will receive the resignation of Frank J. Bernum from the Mount Prospect Fire and Police Commission at its regular meeting Tuesday.

Bernum's resignation has been returned for some time. Harold Smith, chairman of the commission, resigned effective April 30.

The only remaining member of the commission is P. Randolph Baumann.

Mayor Daniel Congress has scheduled on tonight's agenda appointments to the fire and police commission and also an appointment to the board of appeals.

Philip Nease recently resigned from the board of appeals, citing the loss of business as his reason.

Two Youths Killed

Cycle Hits Auto During Wild Chase

Two youths were killed Saturday when the motorcycle they were riding crashed into an auto on Rand Rd. near the intersection with Louis St.

Michael P. Walsh, 20, of 11 Lynbrook Dr., Prospect Heights, the driver, and his passenger, Robert Stafford, 19, of 616 N. Main, Mount Prospect, died in Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

They had been speeding on Rand Rd. by Mount Prospect police officers, when they collided in a chase at speeds up to 80 m.p.h.

OFFICERS said they observed the cyclist from the Thunderbolt Bowl parking lot.

The youths were chased north on Rand Rd. west of Highway 40 on Emerson, east on Highland, and northeast on Rand Rd.

The youths struck the car driven by Marshall Korman, 40, of 1301 Broadway, Evanston, about where they were first seen speeding by police officers.

Officers said Korman "was in the intersection with safety" and was not issued a ticket. He told police he was entering Rand Rd. from Louis intending to proceed northeast.

He said he did not see the motorcycle.

A WITNESS said she observed the cyclist from the Thunderbolt Bowl parking lot.

A witness's report was that of traffic, passing a car on the left next to the crash, passing another car on the right and then striking Korman's car.

Witnesses were told to stop over the car, Stafford was hurt.

Police said they pursued the youths in two squares west of Highway 40, near the intersection with Highway 40, near the intersection with Highway 40, near the intersection with Highway 40.

Impact in original

Summer School Popular

More than 2,000 children have signed up for the summer school in June 56.

That's nearly twice as many as the district's original estimate. Board members said they had additional space from parents who signed Friday's request for enrollment. Key factor in the big increase is the district's decision to meet state aid for the first time this summer, cutting residential costs to $5 per child.

Dr. Roger Barwell, superintendent, told board members that $35,000 might be expected in state aid and bond issue. Despite the large enrollment, he believed that state aid to the district would stay within the $8,000 authorized by the board.

Summer school director Alan M. Lawson will give a report at the next board meeting. Several more schools may be used in the summer program.

No Double Shifts in Dist. 59

No double shifts are proposed for the fall in Elementary School Dist. 59.

Supt. Roger Barwell made the prediction after board member Dick Hays told of talks with trustees. Barwell said he'd had a dozen parents in his office in the past few days and "had exhausted the situation in short."

Many school districts are finding their building programs behind schedule on the strike of heavy equipment operators. J. C. Clemens, building and grounds head, told the board that progress on Junior Lane School in Arlington Heights was on time.

Barwell said that there may be some minor shuffling of school boundaries, and perhaps some extra busing, but that there would be no double shifts. Board president Doug Harsanyi told Barwell to let parents know plans as soon as possible. Barwell said an announcement would be made soon, but he would have a better indication of all the alternatives and that coming up with a plan to handle all the children would be a problem.

Racing Fan Finds Class Costs Extra

An opening day race in Arlington Race Track found prices too high for his tastes. Willard Beatty, 50, was jailed for disorderly conduct after he allegedly refused to pay his bill at the track's Chase Club. Beatty told Arlington Heights police he paid $2.50 to get into the club, then was charged $12 for his meal.

"I think I'm being gyped," he said. "I thought the $2.50 was for my meal." Beatty's bond was set at $25.

Board Votes $24,000 Salary

Dr. Edward M. Gilbert, superintendent of the Arlington School Dist. 214, will receive a salary of $24,000 next year. The board of education set the salary Monday night following discussion in an executive session. An assistant superintendent Dr. Gilbert's salary was $18,954. Supt. Harold L. Stuchensky's was paid $27,500 this year.

Chuckholes 'A Shame'

Chickadee Rd. is a shame. Village Trustee Lefkey A. Bender called Monday night.

The village board accepted the plan to keep the road in repair but he said there is heavy traffic from school buses and delivery trucks.

"It is a shame," Bender said. "That is our bad." Bender said the village has attempted to keep the road in repair but he said there is heavy traffic from school buses and delivery trucks.

Speakers Named

Board of education members who will deliver the addresses at the commencement program in June 214 are Richard A. Buckner, Prospect High School; Dr. Frank J. Birch, Arlington High School; Arthur Aronson, Wheeling High School; and board president Hal W. Armstrong, Forest View High School.

Commencement will be Friday, June 10.

Park Swale Keeps Golf Course Open

It was golf in swale at the Mount Prospect country club last week-end, despite record floods at the area.

Charles W. Payne, president of the park district, and Thomas W. Cooper, superintendent, reported that the new swale from Route 84 to Valley Creek worked perfectly in carrying off the water.

According to Cooper the water rose above the current confined at the bottom of the swale to a maximum depth of five inches on some highways as they continued a sort of flood plain to delay the timing of the water to Valley Creek. The spreading of the water is in accord with an effective, unimpaired plan to eliminate flooding and slow the flow.

Robert T. Jackson, building and grounds chairman, kept a close watch on the effectiveness of the various marking frequent inspections during the heavy rains, according to Payne, and was satisfied that it was doing the job for which it was built. Payne noted it was clear that the park district had no quarrel with the builders and clearly property rights which entitle them to build water homes, which may have in drain areas or under the public property which is the Country Club Park. He said the board does believe that how this is accomplished should be said it is swale of public concern and should be discussed in a gathering of the interested parties.

"Whether it comes to installation the present swale or whether the goal is accomplished by flood plain or possible west of Route, the park board does not propose to dictate," he said.

It is the desire of the park board, however, that it not be necessary to expand public lands for the benefit of private parties. The swale takes care of the water now retained. With more building and without any way to alleviate the conditions that would be caused, the swale would be inadequate and public property would be damaged.

There should be enough good will on the part of builders and all public officials to get together to discuss the matter," Payne said.

Mrs. E. Sanderson, 12 E. Fairview, supervisor of the school department at Northwest Community Hospital and School E. Chabang, superintendent of Elementary School 214, today takes some of the toys on display in the hospital lobby. Pupils from Wilson School in the third through fifth grades made posters for the National Hospital Week and donated them to Northwest Community. Also on display are posters made by children of hospital employees depicting what they think their parents do at work. National Hospital week was celebrated nationwide May 8-14. The posters will remain on display this week.

Board Puts on Heat

Mount Prospect's newest junior high will get its heating system — but board members of E.L. Grove Elementary School Dist. 59 "still think we're paying too much for it."

Heat compared costs on Jerome Low School in Arlington Heights to those for Oliver Wendell Holmes Junior High in Joliet. Low, heating costs are $72,000 for 37,000 square feet — about $2 a sq. ft. Holmes estimates for 54,000 sq. ft. run about $3.30 a sq. ft.

Third member Joe Scheller told higher heating costs may be due to the building design. "Some day, come hell or high water," he said, "we're going to have to bid a contractor to take his bid and travel."

Churchill Name Loses But It Was Close Vote

It was Winston Churchill who said, "There has to be a Churchill in every school." Monday night the board of Dir. 214 repeated Churchill in the same way for a very high school. The margin was one vote.

Last week Churchill got a "thumbs up" from the board but T. Earl Thompson was absent. Last night Thompson was there and he voted No. Dr. Frank Smith championed the cause of Churchill.

gals, citing him as "all that is best in education, literature, history and the arts, by a sign of the century."

Thompson, who is secretary of the board, called the roll. Just as it happened last week, the vote was 3-3 with one abstain.

"I would prefer to see a name that is acceptable to more than a small majority," Thompson said. "So I will vote No."

Sheriff Richard Ogilvie slammed the Cook County Democratic organization in a recent speech to the Palestine Bazaar, Republican Organi-

Ogilvie, who is running for president of the Cook County Board, said a Republican win in November would be the first step in knocking out the strength of the "Daley machine" in 1968.

He said the Democratic organization is being weakened by growing dissatisfaction within the Negro community in Chicago. He pointed out that for the first time Negroes are running against the party power structure.

Ogilvie promised to set up a civil service program in Cook County departments "like never has been seen before" if he is elected president of the county board.

Ogilvie said a great share of the $457 million budget of the $457 million budget of Cook County goes into welfare payments. He said the Democratic budgets lead the welfare recipients to believe their money comes from the generosity of the party, rather than the laws of Cook County. He pledged a relentless war to take politics out of the welfare program.

Are They Lookers Or Buyers?

So you're selling your house. Take a look at that crowd on your front lawn. Are they lookers or buyers. A "For Sale" sign is an open invitation to the bleacher crowd. To make certain that people come to buy, not just to look, put your home in the hands of a Realtor. He'll thumb out the people who are just looking, and handle all of the details. When you're selling -- or buying a home -- check with him. He'll find just what you need during Winter Week and every week.

No Great Skill Required to Brighten Flooring

Milling the wooden floor look like new one makes an old, run-down house look bright and inviting once more. No great skill is needed, only care. The equipment can be rented, so that the only investment is in a new floor finish and your time.

Floors will need sanding before applying a new finish. But before sanding, prepare the surface. If nail heads show, set them with a hammer and nail set and fill the holes with wood putty. Cracks should be filled with putty also.

To make sanding around the edges of a room easier, remove the molding along the baseboards. Pry up carefully to avoid splintering or cracking. You can then bring your sander right to the edge of the floor without damaging the molding or the baseboard. Occasionally a floor will have a hump or high spot. Plane these smooth, since the sander will just ride over such an area.

Clear the room of all furniture, shades, pictures, mirrors. Open windows but close doors to adjoining rooms.

Floor sander can be rented from tool rental agencies, most hardware or paint stores. Have the dealer show you exactly how the model works. Buy enough sandpaper for the machine and get three grades — coarse, medium and fine — which you will use in that order.

Start At Wall

Start with coarse grit paper and sand the floor lengthwise with the floor boards. Start at the opposite wall. Come back along the same path. The next pass with the sander should overlap the previous by two or three inches.

The coarse grit paper cuts through the old finish. The second sanding with medium-grade paper is to get rid of the roughness left by the first sanding. The final sanding with fine paper is to make the floor properly smooth for finishing. After the second sanding leaves the floor smooth, it is the final sanding that will give the finished floor a mirrorlike surface.

Clean That Dust

Dusting is the next step. Use a vacuum to pick up every speck of dust. Be sure to dust window sills, shelves, baseboards — any place that dust may have settled. Nothing will ruin your new finish more quickly than dust.

Clear finishes are used on floors to protect the surface while permitting the attractive grain pattern to show through. The usual finishes are shellac, varnish, penetrating sealers, plastic finishes and wax.

Shellac goes on easily, dries quickly, does not chip or crack but is not as durable as varnish for long-wearing use. Shellac is too thick to use as it comes out of the container and should be thinned with an equal amount of alcohol or commercial solvent. Apply several thin coats.

Varnish is hard and brittle but wears well. It goes on easily but dries slowly, about 24 hours between coats as compared with four to five hours for shellac. Two or three coats are needed. Sand is between. Finish both shellac and varnish by waxing.

Penetrating sealers are oil-based, penetrate into the wood, leave nothing on the surface. The sealer, because it has soaked in, lasts under heavy use. Use wax as a finish coat.

A variety of plastic finishes go on easily, dry rapidly, wear well, need no waxing unless desired. These are more expensive than shellac or varnish but could be worth it.

Special penetrating wax seal and finish the floor at the same time. Use several coats; polish with floor wax.

Middle Income Custom Homes

The custom-built home, formerly regarded as a luxury within the means of only high-income families, has now come into its own among middle-income families, thanks to the efforts of one pioneer Chicago-area building firm.

The 55-year-old Best Custom Homes, Inc., president Joseph Bergman, "middle-income families have been cautious about capturing the possibility of building a custom home. Mainly, people regarded the custom home as something coming far beyond their means."

"As a result, these families have regarded themselves as settling for conventional, production-line developments," he said.

"Realizing this, we decided to step in and show how to bring the custom home within the price reach of the average wage-earner."

Another interesting observation about the custom home buyer was brought to light when further studies showed that the idea of such a home was especially appealing to families planning to purchase their second home. Buyers in the market for a second home tend to look for options which they could not obtain in their first home.

Surveys also bring out an important point to consider—the fact that custom-built homes can generally command 15 to 20% more money on resale. The higher resale value is accounted for by the greater number of special features and the individual craftsmanship that goes into a custom-built home.

Through careful planning and merchandising, the fact that Best Built maintains its own lumberyard and mill, the firm has been able to design and build custom homes at a cost considerably less than most custom dwellings, without sacrificing quality. Best Built custom residences range in size and degree of luxury from a modest home priced in the low five figures to the largest and most elaborate design, depending upon the family's personal preferences.

Extra's Added to Capitol Hill Homes

A housewarming gift of $6,600 worth of additional deluxe home features awaits every family who purchases a new home in Fidelity Builders' Capitol Hill residential development in Prospect Heights.

The "gift package" items are designated as "Blue Ribbon" luxury extras as an indication of their custom quality and operational or decorative excellence. They include a wide and impressive array of outstanding home features that are among those highest in demand by today's home-seekers.

The home buyer in Capitol Hill will have, for example, a refrigerator automatic washer and dryer, 13-cubic foot refrigerator-freezer, built-in double oven and burner, and a dishwasher and disposal.

Also included among the "Blue Ribbon" luxury items offered by Fidelity Builders in each Capitol Hill home are Mueller Climatron Air Conditioning, Georgia-Pacific wood-paneled family room, a choice of 100% wool or nylon carpeting, and professional N.S.I.D. decorating consultant service. Other housewarming gifts include Arcade, insulated patio doors, Sager screens, aluminum storm windows and screens, and removable wood and double-hung and slider

Cribs, clean lines and unusually generous proportions mark the "Diplomat", new split-level model introduced by Fidelity Builders in their Capitol Hill development located on Camp McDonald Rd., just west of River Rd. in Prospect Heights. Four massive bed-windows. Of special appeal to the lady of the house are the cultured marble vanity tops and plate glass mirrors in the bedrooms. To round out the attractive "package" of luxury extras, the 65 x 145 foot lot is landscaped complete with two trees, a distinctive gas coach light, a two-car garage with full concrete drive—and an electric garage door opener.

ASIDE FROM these many extras, the Capitol Hill home buyer can also enjoy a great number of other highly desirable features which are included in the purchase price, thus giving him an exceptional per-dollar home value.

Kitchens are equipped with Nu-Tone carved wood cabinets, and Formica-topped counters. Bathrooms have American Clean ceramic tile and American Standard colored fixtures. An A. O. Smith hot water tank and Mueller furnace are also standard items in each Capitol Hill home. Ornamental iron is used generously throughout as a decorative accent. Fidelity, Inc. president Joseph Shuchter explains, "We wanted to offer families a real home buy, and make the true value clearly evident to them. With our $6,600 Housewarming Gift Package of "Blue Ribbon" luxury extras, the home buyer can see exactly how much he is saving by receiving features which might otherwise be offered to him elsewhere as optional.

"Even the features which must obviously be included in the purchase price represent a tremendous value in return for the Capitol Hill home buyer's investment."

THERE ARE now five basic home designs available in Capitol Hill, including two new models which have just been introduced by Fidelity Builders. All of these homes include the "Blue Ribbon" luxury extras, plus many other important home features.

The Congress, a 3-bedroom, 3 1/2 bath split-level, is priced at $33,700 while the Diplomat, a split-level with 4 bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths, is priced at $34,700.

Furnished model homes in Capitol Hill are located on Camp McDonald Road (one mile north of Lake Street) just west of River Road in Prospect Heights, and are open for inspection daily until dusk.

What Makes Flea Hop? Your Carbon Dioxide

If a flea should hop out of a crack in the floor and bite you this summer, that flea isn't mad at you — he's just all excited about your carbon dioxide.

That may not be much consolation, admits the National Pest Control Association but it is the long-sought answer to the question of why flea jump. Reporting the results of a research project in the University of Tokyo, Dr. Philip J. Soper, Tsubotani Director of the Association, said that the stimulating effect of carbon dioxide upon fleas, as well as mice, bedbugs and mosquitoes has been dramatically shown in recent research reports reaching this country.

Fleas, Dr. Soper went on to point out, drop from dogs or cats (different varieties of fleas but with the same effect) after a blood meal and will shelter in cracks or crevices. They remain there, almost dormant, until stimulated by carbon dioxide to spring violently and almost blindly through the air seeking the warm blooded animal which has exhaled the carbon dioxide through its breathing.

THE BEDDING used by dogs is a typical breeding place for fleas. They use clean grass, accumulated cat litter and dirt, and in soft soil. A dog's bed left in the cool damp cellar while the family is away on vacation can bring about a thoroughly infested cellar as a welcome home surprise.

Flea lay eggs in suitable breeding places and the eggs hatch into tiny dirty white maggots which emerge as full grown young fleas hungry for a meal. The presence of carbon dioxide is the trigger which sets the hungry flea off on his hunting expedition.

There isn't too way to stop your pumping carbon dioxide into the air and turning yourself into flea bait, the sensible way out is to get rid of the flea.

IN TERMS of protecting the family dwelling against flea infestation is a most emphatic Dr. Soper. Frequent changes of bedding for the dog, inspection of animals to make sure they are not heavily flea-infested, and removal of debris which might encourage breeding are sensible household precautions.

Large infestations, which can sometimes make a lawn, yard or cellar almost completely unusable, require professional attention, advises Dr. Soper. Modern chemical sprays and dusts provide almost total control of flea populations, but their safe application in large areas is a job for a professional pest control operator, he notes.

Suburban Condominiums 'Catching On'

A subtle change is occurring in the home-buying habits.

It's a trend toward condominium apartment-home ownership, according to Fred Peterman, director of sales for United Development Company's Regent Park subdivision in Arlington Heights.

To keep pace with the trend, United plans five condominiums in Regent Park, three of which are in construction and should be ready for occupancy this summer, and the other two on which work is slated to get underway within a few weeks.

Peterman admits the condominiums originally went over big in the city because they offered a home to those who wanted to be "in the thick of things." The city condominium, according to Peterman, "let the city inclined owner have his cake and eat it too, because it provided home ownership along with proximity to glitter."

Now, says Peterman, the suburban condominiums are "really catching on." And, he asserts, there are several reasons.

"WE HAVE managed to sell units to those who have tried the city life but have found that the social pressure built to the ways of the suburbs. They like the convenience of the condominiums and are buying in the suburbs because that's where they have their friends and other ties. (This trend sort of belies the argument, "wait until the kids grow up and we'll move back to the city.") Most suburbanites have become used to more living space and they can usually find more living space in the condominiums in suburbs since city property usually commands higher costs. Also, most city condominiums are built on land that requires much work clearing previous construction."

Peterman says suburban condominiums, such as those in Regent Park, also provide the open space and clean air of the country so lacking in the big city. And, he notes the condominium home offers the owner a tax saving feature.

"In a condominium," he says, "you actually own your apartment - home just as you would an individual home. Thus, you can buy, sell or mortgage your apartment independently and, as with single home ownership, receive savings on your income tax, as well as build up a substantial equity over the years."

IN ANOTHER aspect, Peterman claims the resale of condominiums are "gaining strength." He cites statistics which he says reveal that "most owners have profited in resale."

Peterman says buying a condominium is just like buying a single family home. "The buyers should be just as selective. They still need a good location that will give them easy access to shopping facilities, schools, loop transportation, quick access to O'Hare Field and other family needs."

However, Peterman says, it is important to the success of any development but it's especially so in condominiums. People want to satisfy the need to live among the trees and the quiet of residential neighborhoods. They get the feeling of home ownership through condominiums and through the residential surroundings offered by the suburbs."

DESIGN AND space also are important, according to Peterman. And, he says, since suburban condominiums incorporate good design and actually provide more living space than its city counterpart, they're coming more and more in favor with buyers who previously were homeowners.

Regent Park, situated on Kensington Road just a half mile from the Randhurst shopping center, offers beautifully landscaped grounds, swimming pool, tennis courts, and a private seven-acre lake for boating and fishing.

The Regent Park condominium owner can enjoy his leisure time without worrying over the upkeep of his unit since complete maintenance of grounds and recreational facilities is provided. This includes grasscutting, tree and shrub trimming, and snowplowing of walks and driveways. Exterior painting and maintenance of the buildings' common elements (halls and elevators) are covered in the monthly mortgage payments.

Regent Park condominiums sell from $26,900 to $33,450. Three-story in appearance in front and four-story in the back, the buildings include 13 units, with no more than four units per floor. They include one, two or three bedroom units and have 1 1/2, 2 or 2 1/2 baths, airconditioning, central vacuum, dishwasher, pet-to balconies, spacious living areas, and parking facilities.

Sometimes Cash Is Not the Answer

To sell real estate for cash would be folly for some owners.

Exchanging offers the opportunity to move property that should not be sold for cash, Reflor Lee Craig Newton, Chicago, told delegates attending an all-day seminar of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

"There are many owners of real estate who bought in the 1930's and '40's when prices were substantially lower than they are today," Newton said. "In addition, these properties have been depreciated down to the land. These clients will be liable for a substantial capital gains tax which would erode their equities."

"Cash from a sale creates a serious problem for some sellers," Newton continued. "They can't tolerate the temptation of money for fear it will be spent unwisely. This very fear may be the reason a client will not sell. An exchange is the ideal method of disposing of this client's property. He can exchange up his equity, thereby getting a better return on his investment and at the same time alleviating the fear of eroding his capital."

NEWTON SAID that not only does the knowledgeable exchange know that for some clients an exchange can be the most advantageous route in disposing of real property but the general public also is becoming receptive to exchanging and is beginning to understand its inherent advantages.

He added that the exchange technique can be applied to any type of real estate, from a vacant lot to a large investment property.

"When money is not available in the tight money mortgage market, exchange transactions are possible using clear property or property with large equity," Newton said. "Unlike the cash sale, where money and financing are critical factors, the exchange has built-in financing which is available when needed.

"The exchanger can generate financing if the principal agrees to a first or second mortgage. Financing offers the exchanger challenging creative opportunities. The most logical technique for generating money or balancing equities is an exchange is to have the principals take back paper."

Newton pointed out that exchanging is an excellent solution for the client moving to another location. "Very likely this client is going to acquire property in the new location so he has the advantage of using his equity to acquire new property without first selling and then buying."

While some clients should not sell their properties for cash, there are others who are not content with capital gains and tax and can accept a smaller clear property in exchange and generate cash by refinancing. Newton pointed out.

He added that exchanging may be used also to build an estate and to free the client from hard-to-sell property or property which is no longer needed.

A CITATION of merit for excellence in design has been presented to the architects of the Old Orchard Country Club's clubhouse. The citation, one of 16 presented in the Chicago area, went to the firm of Alper and Alper. The presentation was made April 27 by the American Institute of Architects and the Chicago Chamber of Commerce. The clubhouse, which was completed in 1962, has been featured in articles in a number of architectural magazines and was the subject of a full-color advertisement run recent to coast by U.S. Steel.

Okay, Gardeners, It's Time to Get Sowing

BY RICHARD De LANO

For the gardener, this week-end marks the start of the real planting season. Even the tender plants such as tomatoes or petunias can now be planted without danger of frost.

It's at this time that people often ask as what flowers they can plant in shade. Although the list is large, it is no way compares with the variety of plants that can be grown in sun.

First on the list of shade tolerant flowers are two plants that are produced from tuber: caladium and tuberous begonia. The caladium is attractive because of its colorful six inch arrow-shaped leaves. Plants may be started from tubers by sprouting in damp moss or started plants may be placed directly in the garden.

Tuberous begonias are similar to caladiums not only in shade tolerance but also their need for plenty of water.

However, in contrast, begonias have a large variety of showy flower types while caladiums limit their variety to a number of unusual leaf patterns. Plants of tuberous begonias purchased at nurseries now will have two or three large hairy leaves. Flowers should be produced in three to four weeks.

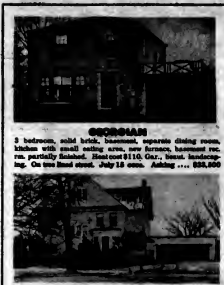

THE PLANTS grow quite rapidly bearing huge leaves on rather succulent stems. For this reason it is best to support the plants with this bamboo stakes. A drooping variety is well suited for hanging baskets or window boxes.

AN IDEAL plant for shady children's gardens is the colorful variegated foliage will hold a child's interest through the growing stages to maturity. It's also a good plant on which to develop a youngster's green thumb. Cuttings or slips can be quickly rooted in water, damp sand or vermiculite. In winter it serves as a fast growing house plant.

Browallia, a not too common member of the perianth family, is another shade tolerant plant that is suited to hanging baskets, flower boxes or garden edging. The one inch blue violet or white flowers are borne on foot high plants. The glossy foliage faintly resembles myrtle.

Other plants for partial heavy shade include: Begonia impatiens (also called rhodanthe), yucca, and nicotiana. For partial light shade try: Clematis, also called spider plant, Colorado columbine, calceolarias, cosmos, dusty miller, honesty, petunia, annual phlox, salvia, sweet alyssum, verbena and flowering kale or cabbage.

Yorkshire Features A 'Bonus' Room

"Versatile" is the word for the Yorkshire, in Berkley Square, Arlington Heights. A unique bonus room feature makes this 3 bedroom, 1 1/2 bath split-level a home for "now" and "later" as well as providing a flexible plan to accommodate the living needs of families, both large and small.

"Now," the bonus room may be used for extra storage, or as a work-shop, sewing room or home office. "Later" as the family expands, this extra room becomes the coveted 4th bedroom.

OVER-ALL, the Yorkshire has been uniquely conceived with an eye to greater privacy and convenience. Upstairs, the "sleeping quarters" house 3 big bedrooms including a large master bedroom with wall-to-wall mirror and Mrs. closets. A lavish, full bath features twin-bowl marble-top vanity, a glass enclosed tiled tub and shower, plus colored plumbing.

A half-flight of stairs carries one down to the main level. Here one finds an enchanting kitchen with an abundance of hand-crafted wooden cabinets, granite top, built-in stainless steel sink, counter, level range and hood, loads of Formica workspace, and a large eating area. The kitchen provides access to both the spacious living room and delightful dining room with sliding glass doors to the patio.

A hand-dyed tiled foyer with guest closet completes the main-level plan.

Down a second, short stairway, one finds a beautifully paneled recreation room, finished powder room, laundry-storage facilities, plus that extra bonus room.

QUALITY and solidarity are apparent in brick veneer and masonry exteriors enhanced by lowered shutters, and charming coach lights flanking entries. The Yorkshire provides a total of 2102 sq. ft. of living space plus an integral garage, and is priced at $24,750.

The Yorkshire is on display on Arlington Heights Road 1/4 mile north of Rand Road, in Berkley Square, Arlington Heights. Six furnished models are available for viewing. Homes are open for inspection daily and Sunday, 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. and Saturday, until 4 P.M.

Furnishing Bedrooms

Kingsize, Queensize, Super-size. That's the trend in bedding as evidenced by the fact that one third of all mattresses sold last year were "super-size."

As a result, other bedroom furniture now is scaled to match these larger beds.

The chest - or - chest becomes the armoire - wardrobe, with a top section that has cabinet doors instead of drawers, and enough space inside to hang jackets. Drawers are larger, exceeding even double-drawer dimensions, and have wider, coordinated mirrors.

One of the many convenience features of the Yorkshire, a 3 bedroom, 1 1/2 bath split-level home in Berkley Square, Arlington Heights is a partitioned "bonus" room, for a future 4th bedroom. The Yorkshire includes a finished paneled family room and integral garage and is priced at $24,750.

The youth committee also gave food, clothing and gifts to a needy Mexican family, supplied cosmetics and presents for residents of the Park Ridge School for Girls, and at teaching unit at Clearbrook Center for the retarded, made favors for residents of Little City, also an institution for the retarded, and held a cookout for boys at Lincoln High.

The home and garden committee, directed by Mrs. Leslie Graham, took cookies to patients at the Arlington Heights Rest Home and mailed 20 tags for the hospital ship Hope.

All club members currently are assisting the village health department in a preschool vision-testing program. There are only a few of the achievements of the local ladies, who obviously earned the service and philanthropy laurels they won in the Seventh District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

RETIRING and new success—the hard members of Alpha Psi Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society will meet for consultation and luncheon.

They know the principal children and have learned how to make up pieces of their own. They have composed on note naming and drills on blackboard writing. They are training their ears by systematic study and at this point can play short notes or write them down, all by ear. Co-operation and friendly competition keep interest at a high level, and the results are amazing.

No Swashbuckling For John Grayson

In his real-life role of writer, editor and actor, John Grayson, 768 S. Belmont, is something less than swashbuckling. But on the Village Theater stage — in the role of Othello, murderer of his people — you might expect him to be "swashbuckling" the audience.

As a mild-mannered leader of his unknown, Othello is described by one general as "a good man, but a little bit of a nut." Grayson has appeared in a variety of comedy and character roles, including leads in "Anastasia," "Critic's Club," "Deposite Hours," "Honey" and "Come Blow Your Horn." In "Othello" he is supported by a cast of 35. "Othello" opens June 11 in the Westing House School Theater. Other performances will be given June 12, 17 and 18. For tickets and information, call the Village Theater box office, CL 5-2300.

Gallery to Pick Artists
Countrywide Gallery, 10 W. Main, will select artists for the 1966-67 season May 25. Those interested in the competition may bring examples of their work to Reception Desk on May 25 and 26. Categories of work acceptable are painting, sculpture, design and crafts. Artists Robert Anderson and Carl and Ray Hoffman Schwartz, all of Chicago, will be judges. Further information can be obtained by calling the gallery at 335-3003 between 1 and 4 p.m.

Interest Rate Up For Savers

As anticipated, annual dividend rate of 4 1/2 per cent effective July 1 has been announced by the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

The increase will apply to all accounts regardless of amount, and will be payable at regular semi-annual dividend periods. Paul E. Collins, assistant president, said: "The increase is prompted by two principal factors," he said. "One is that we have employed a gradual increase in savings funds, but a second factor, being in our service."

The other is that the new rate will set as a further incentive to savings and thus will help to curb inflation.

4 Selected For Course

Four Dist. 59 administrators will attend a course in leadership training.

Ludwig Bodnar, assistant superintendent, and principal Paul E. Collins, Ridge Road, will be selected. Also, David H. Davidson, will take the two-week training course at Belvidere, Ill.

Three opportunities will be provided here for all administrators to attend a similar course. The first course is June 12-17 and the second, June 22-26. West Avenue, Dist. 129, will offer courses Aug. 1-12 or as exchange basis with Dist. 59.

2 Villages Exchange Water Resources for Emergencies

Manual co-operation between Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights was demonstrated yesterday afternoon as the two villages joined together their water systems.

The connection was made at Central Rd. at Avenue 30, where the two village main lines were joined.

Public works officials say that under the connection system either village can provide the other with water in the event of an emergency.

A dual meter system was installed and any water pumped from the village to the village will be paid for by the village receiving the water.

Gene Wismann, director of public works for Arlington Heights, said that the village could supply each other with at least 12 hours of total water service in the event a pumping station or a well is inoperable.

David Cramer, Mount Prospect public works director, said the water system was connected from neighboring Arlington Heights would be valuable in the event of a big fire or other emergency requiring extensive use of water facilities.

Officials from both Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights said that the water would only be exchanged in the event of an emergency.

"This is a public service as the part of both villages to be able to help the other in the event of an emergency," Mount Prospect Village Manager John Morgan said.

Work done from both villages provided the labor for the installation on a cooperative basis.

Plans for the hook-up of the two municipal systems was reported by officials of both municipalities.

"It seemed only having both water systems ending abruptly at Central and Arthur," Morgan said.

Officials from Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights were on hand yesterday as the two villages joined their water systems.

Republicans Show Old Fight - For Each Other

Mr. Daniel LeClerc and Dr. John W. Newberry are a romantic duo in "When New Year's Eve" presented by the Northwest Community Hospital Players May 21 at 8 p.m. and May 22 at 8:30 p.m. at Whiting High School. Performances also are set for May 27 and 28 at 8:30 p.m. The play is produced by members of the hospital family and proceeds will be donated to the hospital.

By JACK A. VANDEMEYER
The Republican Party has chosen a Mr. "Tom" Newberry as its party's first discoverer of the fact that the annual candidates' night meeting sponsored by the Capital Republican Club at the Arlington Heights YFV last night.

Meeting were nine candidates for three primary nominations and they proceeded in discussing each other in the true spirit of Republicanism.

Heading the party were GOP candidates for the Whiting Township Board of Supervisors.

They were followed by five candidates running for two nominations to the Illinois House of Representatives and three candidates for the State Senate.

Earlier that evening the 15 men confronting the electorate at the June 14 primary election, the candidates embarked on a baroque night of discussion.

There were exceptions. One or two of the nine candidates dedicated themselves to the discussion of the issues. For the most part, however, the campaign night degenerated into a show reminiscent of politics in the Deep South.

One candidate dramatized his appearance in the post by putting a shoppers cart full of groceries on the speakers platform. Another was accompanied by a woman in a bikini and a parrot. Still another was a show of his own strength.

There's Some Good In Batman - - Minister

The Rev. David Chaney of Good Shepherd Methodist Church in Park Ridge finds a lot of good in all of people - Batman.

In a recent article in "Time" magazine, the Rev. Mr. Chaney wrote "Even caricatures of the Batman show reflect the inner of what we are and what we should not be."

"Outside of periodic visits by faulty, ill-bred villains, no problems seem to exist," he wrote. "These unusual villains are flamboyant in their evil actions and their intentions are well known."

"The face of evil isn't so well known in real life," he said.

"BATMAN," the Rev. Mr. Chaney said, "fights for peace and justice. Consequently the people in his city are content to live comparatively while depending upon him to defeat crime."

"The lesson suggested by Batman are that we must not drug ourselves with fantasy, but rather look squarely at reality... we must recognize and attempt the triumph of evil in our midst."

Concluded the Methodist minister: "If a widely accepted television series helps to reveal to us our spiritual condition, maybe the program is not too far off after all. Perhaps we have been the ones who need to get with it."

The Rev. Edwin L. Stevens, recently returned from the Holy Land, will speak on "Where Jesus Walked" at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday (May 23) services of the South Church Community Synagogue in Mount Prospect.
